SHIN ONSEN TOWN

A premier tourist destination in the San'in region, Shin Onsen Town has a dual personality. It is a hot springs town, well-known since Heian times. It is also a vibrant fishing port with an abundant catch of many different seafoods.

A romantically retro hot springs town, surrounded by beautiful ocean and rich, green mountains.

We invite you to venture just a little further afield from Japan's ancient capital, Kyoto, and other destinations such as Kinokasa, and experience one of the best hot springs areas in the Kinki region.

KIRIN JISHI

The shishi-mai lion dance is a traditional festival rite that is performed to ward off and exorcise evil and disease.

In Shin Onsen Town, a shishi-mai dance based on the legendary Chinese sacred beast, the qilin (known in Japan as kirin), called the kirin jishi has been passed down through the ages.

温泉 ONSEN

The steam dancing above the water,
the many benefits of the springs

As one would expect of a town that bears the word onsen (hot spring) in its name, you are sure to enjoy to the full the many benefits of the hot springs. We have three hot springs areas in the town - Hamasaka Onsen, Yumura Onsen and Shichikama Onsen.

ARAYU

Yumura Onsen is an ancient hot spring with a history dating back more than 1,000 years. Local legend states that it was discovered in the year 848 by the Buddhist priest, Jikaku Daishi (also known as Ennin), the third abbot of the Tendai sect. Arayu is the wellspring of Yumura Onsen. 470 litres of almost boiling water (at 98°C, Arayu is the hottest of all of Japan's hot springs) gushes forth from Arayu every minute. When the more than 60 other wellsprings in the vicinity are included, 2,300 litres a minute of hot spring water are supplied to the area. Not only is the water pumped to inns in the area, it is also distributed to private homes and has long been used by local residents in their daily lives. Tourists can also experience this culture of daily life by boiling eggs in the Arayu hot spring and soaking their feet in the ashiyu hot spring footbath along the Haruki River.

JAPANESE CUISINE

Japanese cuisine, or washoku, has been added to UNESCO's list of Intangible Cultural Heritage.

Shin Onsen Town is a cornucopia of food ingredients used in washoku, and visitors to the area can enjoy delicious dishes bursting with those ingredients at the town's inns, hotels and restaurants.

Tajima Beef

All of the world-famous Kobe Beef comes from purebred Tajima cattle, a breed that actually originated in this part of Hyogo Prefecture. The remarkable nature of this superior breed has been known for centuries, with their superlative qualities recorded in calligraphy scrolls from more than 700 years ago. The flavor of the meat blends perfectly with the fat in the marbling (shimofuri) to produce Tajima beef's famously exquisite taste.

Matsuba Crab

Matsuba crab, the male of the snow crab species, is a highly-prized gourmet food that has been given the accolade of "the king of the winter palate." Shin Onsen Town has one of the largest Matsuba crab catches in Japan. The female snow crab, known as sekogani, is smaller, but still packed with that delicious crab flavor.

SHRINES and TEMPLES

A visit to a shrine or temple is highly recommended to experience the history, culture and spirit of Japan. Shin Onsen Town is home to temples that enshrine precious Buddhist statues and a shrine where the kirin jishi lion dance is performed to the god of the shrine.

ANTAIJI Abbot Muhō Nölke

Antaiji is a monastery of the Soto school of Buddhism that was founded in Shin Onsen Town to carry out the teachings of Dogen Zenji. Japanese and foreign practitioners alike work hard at a self-sufficient existence, leading a life centered on zazen practice. Muhō Nölke is the ninth abbot of Antaiji. Born in Germany in 1968, he was introduced to zazen in his teens and dreamed of becoming a Zen monk. He studied philosophy and Japanese at university, and also spent time at a university in Japan. Besides Antaiji, he has trained at temples in Kyoto and Fukui. He left the temple at age 33 to open his own zen dojo, but six months later, he learned of the sudden death of his teacher and returned to Antaiji. He currently spends his time teaching zen practitioners, both local and from overseas, conducting speaking engagements and writing books.

Needles Past and Present

Production of wire and sewing needles has been flourishing in the coastal areas of Shin Onsen Town since the latter years of the Edo period. They were well-known under the brand Hamasaka Misuya Needles. Nippon Precision Jewel Industry Co., Ltd. (JICO) founded the industry with the establishment of a needle factory in 1873. The company's technologies were also used to manufacture steel needles for gramophones, and the business further moved into a variety of products such as jewel record styluses and diamond tools. JICO's technology for the uniform electrodeposition of diamond onto stainless steel shafts is top class in Japan. The factory still produces about 2,000 different types of record stylus. They are hand-finished by skilled technicians and exported to more than 100 countries. A JICO stylus is an essential item for record fans both in Japan and abroad.

CULTURE

Climate and geographical features have a tremendous impact on the culture of a region. Learn about Shin Onsen Town's past and present culture through its work and play.
